The cold has reached the end of days
A bird in white sings of earth again
I'm all alone in this freezing land
My heart of stone saved with bleeding hands

I feel like I'm getting closer
To the end of all pain
And I feel like now I'm in closure
With me

Can you see it now?
No more ice in the mire
Can you live with this?
To worry each day
I know I've hurt, and I lied so
Much, I know I've been far from course
I know I've lied, but it all came to me, yeah

I feel like I'm getting closer
To the end of all pain
And I feel like now I'm in closure
Without me

I know there is nothing decided
But I know you'll believe in what I say
You don't belong in this darkness
I'll take us down

Follow the white bird, she'll show you
Now go, you've stayed here for too long
