

See You On The Other Side

Orchid

Hit the ground at a hundred and ten
Too fast to see my fall
Try to mend all the trouble I've caused
But there's no one I can call
Confusion in my mind
There's a voice but it just ain't clear
Hold my breath on the bottom again
But I know the end is near, oh no

Behind - the silver line is fading
See you on the other side
See you on the other side

Passing time with the devil inside
But he just can't keep from crying
Ashamed about the pain that I've caused
And I just can't wash it away
Want to run but there's nowhere to go
Cause I'm always right there waiting
Only happy when I'm burning it down
And the flames are all around, oh no

Behind - the silver line is fading
See you on the other side
See you on the other side
See you on the other side
Oh yeah
See you on the other side

Oh woman you're lying with the dead
There's nothing but sorrow is what I said
My love is the worst you'll ever know
This love is a shadow with no home, oh yeah

Woman that drowns within my soul
My self-destruction familiar endless hole
Silent deals we make inside but never said
Never said...
Laying with the love and truth that I betrayed
Oh betrayed

Behind - the silver line is fading
See you on the other side
See you on the other side
See you on the other side
See you on the other side
Oh yeah
