

Blanket Statement

Origami Angel

I keep my room just like my life
A fuckin' mess and out of sight
With the curtains closed
To block out any light
I have a blanket I unfold
To keep me warm when I get cold
It's no surprise I use it every night

I don't wanna live like this forever
I think I'm falling apart
Someday, I can glue it back together
I just don't know where to start

Maybe I'm stuck in this cycle of ruining everything I'm around

You're just a stupid kid
You say you're always stuck inside your head
You waste away these precious days
With hours trapped inside your bed

"Do you realize you're wasting all of your potential
On these stupid things that just don't matter?"
"Yeah, every single second of my life I do"

I don't wanna live like this forever
I think I'm falling apart
Someday, I can glue it back together
I just don't know where to start

Maybe I'm stuck in this cycle of ruining everything I'm around

Because I keep my room just like my life
(I keep my room just like my life)
A fuckin' mess and out of sight
(A fuckin' mess and out of sight)
With the curtains closed to block out any light
(With the curtains closed, the curtains closed)
I have a blanket I unfold
(I have a blanket I unfold)
To keep me warm when I get cold
(To keep me warm when I get cold)
It's no surprise I use it every night
(It's no surprise, it's no surprise)
It's no surprise I use it every night
(It's no surprise, it's no surprise)
(It's no surprise, it's no surprise)
It's no surprise I use it every night
