

Already Gone

Orion Sun

It started raining in Brooklyn
I'm writing to you while I wait for the earth
To start spinning again
Overwhelmed by your absence
It's a mile to the front door
Took a parachute down to the bottom floor
Going outside feels like going off to war

And I spend most my time now
Just tryna get you off my mind somehow

Mmm

We were black sheep in the barn
Found love broke free
We were roaming on
Got ahead of me but I was catching up
Got there and you were already gone
Already gone
Already gone
Already gone

I try my best
Sometimes I get dressed
I feel like a mess
But I get out of bed still
Ooooo
It's a mile to the front door
Took a parachute down to the bottom floor
Was gonna meet you outside by the waterfront
But you were already gone
Already gone
Already gone
Already gone
Already gone

You was gone
You was gone
You was gone
I was there
You was gone
You was gone
I was up late night
On the phone
On the phone
I was praying I could be something to hold
I don't even know
What was was thinking
I was wrong
You was wrong
We was wrong
Bleeding
Tryna put it in a poem

It's so frightening
Are you still gon' like me
All my
Scars bleed
I feel weak and ugly

It still feels hard to Imagine life without you
You needed someone
