

Human

Orla Gartland

Oh if I was the moon
I would break all the rules
I would sail away into the dark
Not a ghost of a chance
That I'd be coming back

Would I envy the sea
Keeping secrets beneath
No one likes to be caught unaware
There's a plan in the deep
Take the ground from our feet

I don't need DNA
For a radioactive display
Am I lost in the day?

A skeleton can't bruise
No blood for me to lose
Where is the life I knew
Wish that I could be human x2

I'm the face in the clock
Nothing comes as a shock
Inner workings are hidden away
Keep on serving my time
'Til the hour arrives

I don't need DNA
For a radioactive display
Am I lost in the day?
You always remind me

A skeleton can't bruise
No blood for me to lose
Where is the life I knew
Wish that I could be human

Starting to feel like a robot
Living without an identity
I wonder if I'll have permission
I wonder if I am allowed to be

A skeleton can't bruise
No blood for me to lose
Where is the life I knew

A skeleton can't bruise
No blood for me to lose
Where is the life I knew
Wish that I could be human x4
