

Analog Man

Orleans

The hands on my watch go round and round
Like the seasons turn, like the sun goes down
And somewhere out in the computerized night
I know we'll find each other when the time is right

'Cause I'm an analog man
I'm an analog man
I'm an analog man in a digital world
Looking for an analog girl

Click of numbers, perfection of steel
No scratches on your records, but they don't sound real
You can keep your beeper and your mobile phone
I want to hang on her words when I get home
'Cause I'm an analog man
I'm an analog man
I'm an analog man in a digital world
Looking for an analog girl

I said, I am an analog man
I am an analog man
I am an analog man
I am an analog man

The world and I will run down, I know
Throughout the ages, it's always been so
The sands of Atlantis were washed away
And the analog world will be back someday

I'm an analog man
I'm an analog man
I'm an analog man in a digital world
Looking for an analog girl

I said, I am an analog man
I am an analog man
I am an analog man
I am an analog man
Yes, I am
I am an analog man
(I'm an analog man)
I am an analog man (I'm an analog man)
Baby, I am an analog man
I am an analog man
