

Business as Usual

Orleans

You don't like the picture
You can't believe in what you see
But your future seems as distant
As something on TV
So you shake your head
And talk about it to your friends
But it's business as usual
Watching as the world ends

Can you see the sadness
In somebody else's eyes
Can you hear above the madness
When a starving baby cries
Or will you sit around
And talk about it with you friends

And it's business as usual
Watching as the world ends

You could get into the picture
You could try to turn the tide
It might seem impossible
But you won't know until you've tried
Well you sit around
And talk about it with your friends
And it's business as usual
Is this the way the world ends?
