

You're Mine

Orleans

Darling, I saw the way you looked at me
Though you thought that I didn't see
That look that said we belong in bed
Well, that would be fine with me

You're mine, whether you know it or not
You're mine, it may come as a shock
You're mine, you can't escape this destiny
You belong to me

Well, I know just how your lips will feel
And the softness of your skin
This fantasy is all too real
When you gonna let me in?

You're mine, you're beginning to see
You're mine, it's a fait accompli
You're mine, and you will always be
You belong to me
You, you belong to me

Oh, darling
Well, you're mine

I can't seem to cool this desire
I'm burning for you like a wildfire
Well, it dies down to embers
Then I remember the way you looked at me
And then I'm in flames again
Well, you've never said "I love you"
And you never even kissed me

You never pulled me close to you
Still I know that it was meant to be

You're mine, it's unbelievably right
You're mine, what you doin' tonight?
You're mine, yeah, you will always be
You belong to me
You, you belong to me

You're mine, you're beginning to see
You're mine, it's a fait accompli
You're mine, and you will always be

You're mine, well, there's no mystery
You're mine, 'cause I've got your key
You're mine, and you belong to me

You're mine, it's so easy to see
You're mine, just get closer to me
You're mine, you can't escape this destiny
You belong to me

You're mine
You're mine
You're mine

You're mine
You're mine, it's unbelievably right
You're mine, what you doin' tonight?
You're mine, you can't escape this destiny, baby
