

Become Divine

Orthodox

Find the fault
Who's the one to blame?
Who's the one that can afford to be lost?
Drop a line, see what bites
Bear witness to the unknowing sacrifice

Stretch the wound, claim the faith
The wood still burns but it's only one flame
Sick of the heat so you beg for cold
Forgetting the cost of all the signs you sold

They say that fear lives at night
That safety lives in your mind
But the real terror starts when you get lost in the light

Scared turns to righteous
In front of my eyes
We don't know what's inside us
Tell me a lie

Delusion of reality
You'll learn to praise what you can't see
Search your veins for any sign of life
Allow your body to become divine

You'll have your time for release
The dark is what you should fear the least
But for now you need to make your peace

Scared turns to righteous
In front of my eyes
We don't know what's inside us
Tell me a lie

Come on in, let it shine
Allow your body to become divine
Take a sip (Take a sip)
Start the climb (Start the climb)
Allow your body to become divine

The ritual has just begun
Now bear the mark or run
Now bear the mark or run