

We're all just learning to dissolve

Stuck, with nothing but a crux
Closing gates, only space for bad luck
Put a price on the pulse that you can't find
While the air sits in flux

Broken
Nothing feels the same
Getting harder to recall your own name
Damaged
Another clog in the drain
Paralyzed in a fractured frame

Everything that you grew to love was wrong (Wrong)
The silence in the room decides that it's your fault
Sorrow never fades
Revealing time kills everything
We're just learning to dissolve (Dissolve, dissolve, dissolve)

Growing towards the ground
Desist and deceased
Nothing can be found when there's nothing
Nothing to see

Keep checking for a pulse that you can't find
Crease the skin that you shed
Clean it and leave the rind

Broken
Nothing works the same
What you recall isn't what remains
Damaged
Another body to drain
Paralyzed with no one to blame

Everything that you grew to love was wrong (Wrong)
The silence in the room decides that it's your fault
The sorrow never fades
Revealing time kills everything
We're just learning to dissolve (Dissolve, dissolve, dissolve)
