

Fast Asleep

Orthodox

The light leads where the mind won't go

Have you been to hell?
A bright room, a broken shell
Where the world spins real slow
Terrified of what's below

Just close your eyes

Imagine how you'll die

Fresh meat hanging on a hook
Opened up ribs like a fucking book
(Fear, fear)
Do you really believe the lie?
(Fear, fear)
Are you afraid of what's inside?

Measuring veins down to the inch
Until the image makes sense

Tell me about your dreams
Do you feel it when you scream?
Scream, scream
Scream for me

Closing eyes, grinding teeth
The world spins slower when you're fast asleep
Shifting shape, the line repeats
It can't be stopped if it doesn't bleed
It can't be stopped if it doesn't bleed
It can't be stopped

The only stain of life found at the scene
Begging for sweet relief

Don't ask me why
Just close your eyes
Be afraid of what's inside your mind
I swear the light is not what it seems
Be afraid of where it leads

Tell me what you seek
'Cause I could cut the tension when you sleep
Grinding teeth
When you wake will you be afraid of me?

Tell me about your dreams
I know I'm in them when you scream
Scream, scream
Scream for me
