

One Less Body

Orthodox

What the fuck?

Cursing the hand you were dealt
Stuck in the shadow of doubt
Think of the room with one less body in the house
How many limbs can you fit down the drain?
How many mistakes can you truly explain?

What happens?
Does it notice that you're gone?
Your failures were meant to be witnessed
But was what you abandoned meant to be without you?
Nothing here fit the spaces
And as for you, nothing real ever changes

Chased away
What you couldn't control
Left alone
Cold reality
Every moment you miss
Doesn't notice
Disengage while they're crying your name

You feel nothing
You feel nothing

Nothing real ever changes
Why should you?
Simply gone without a trace
Maybe it's time for you to face

Destroyer, rain fire down upon the land
Destroyer, have mercy for no one, leave nothing alive
Destroyer, let death reap the oceans, the forest and skies
Destroyer, rip out their tongues and gouge out their eyes

One less body
One less body
