

The Approach

Orthodox

I am who gave fate the right to decide
And I am the reason that your God has fallen behind
Am I not what you thought you'd find?
What did you come to expect?
You've been reaching out for me
And now it's me you'll get
What sense does this make?
You thought your life was yours to lose
But it's mine to take
Can you feel me moving closer?
God forgot your name
Leaving you alone for me to claim
Take a look around
There's nobody here that can save you now
