

Camouflage

Otherwise

Everywhere I go I'm invisible
I'm at the pinnacle of unoriginal
Everyone I know is fucking miserable
It's just so typical
We need a miracle
Everything I say is so cynical
I'm just an imbecile
Wish I was spiritual
Every single day it's inevitable
So perpetual repeat the syllables

Is it a question of do you believe in love?
Or do you cover up because it's not enough?
Keep hiding in plain sight not knowing wrong from right
A living dead mirage in your camouflage
Camo, camo, camo, camo
Camo, camo, camo
In your camouflage
Camo, camo, camo, camo
Camo, camo, camo, camo

Everything I do is so habitual
I'm so predictable and hypocritical
Every alibi is inadmissible, unforgivable
I need a miracle

Is it a question of do you believe in love?
Or do you cover up because it's not enough?
Keep hiding in plain sight not knowing wrong from right
A living dead mirage in your camouflage
Camo, camo, camo, camo
Camo, camo, camo
In your camouflage
Camo, camo, camo, camo
Camo, camo, camo, camo

Is it the chemicals making us incurable
Is it the television making us hysterical
Is this the way it goes we fight for what we'll never know
As we keep hiding in plain sight

Is it a question of do you believe in love?
Or do you cover up because it's not enough?
Keep hiding in plain sight not knowing wrong from right
A living dead mirage

Is it a question of do you believe in love?
Or do you cover up because it's not enough?
Keep hiding in plain sight not knowing wrong from right
A living dead mirage
In your camouflage
Do you believe in love?
In your camouflage
Do you believe in love?
