

Missing Pieces

Our Lady Peace

I'm not asking you for much
I'm just asking for some faith in then I'll shut up
I'm broken down and beat up by this world
I'm not saying I need a crutch
I'm just saying there's pieces that I can't pick up
Heavy is the crown that we lean on

How long, how long,
'Till we find the pieces we've been missing
How long, how long, will it take
How long, how long,
'Till we find the pieces we've been missing
How long, how long, will it take

I will always, always love you
I will always, always love you

I'm not asking for a thing
I'm just asking for the things that we lost
I'm not sure I can do this on my own
Am I holding on too tight
Am I squeezing the life out of everything I love
Battle with what I've got before its gone

How long, how long,
'Till we find the pieces we've been missing
How long, how long, will it take
How long, how long,
'Till we find the pieces we've been missing
How long, how long, will it take

How long, how long,
'Till we find the pieces we've been missing
How long, how long, will it take
How long, how long,
'Till we find the pieces we've been missing
How long, how long, will it take

I will always always, I will always always love you
How long, how long
