

Caught In The Storm

Our Last Night

(Caught in the storm)

I know it's been awhile since we last spoke,
I hope you're doing fine out there on your own.
Never thought we'd grow apart,
We were together from the start.
Scraping knees, collecting scars,
Now I don't know who you are.

It's not our fault, just the way things are,
But I want you to know you're still in my heart.

We got caught in the storm, alone,
People come and people go,
Drifting away, like old friends do.
But if you walked through the door,
Our world, would be just like it was before.
Rewind the good times like old friends do,
We just got caught in the storm.

I still look back on the days,
When we'd sneak out of the house.
Finding a place to get away,
Where we could drink and be ourselves.

Now we're stressed out and held down,
To the life that we've laid out.
But those times have shaped us who we wanted to be.

We got caught in the storm, alone,
People come and people go,
Drifting away, like old friends do.
But if you walked through the door,
Our world, would be just like it was before.
Rewind the good times like old friends do,
We just got caught in the storm.

The past runs away from us,
Memories fade in and out.
Time flies by before we can even blink an eye.
The past runs away from us,
Memories fade in and out.
Time flies by before we can even blink an eye.

We got caught in the storm, alone,
People come and people go,
Drifting away, like old friends do.
But if you walked through the door,
Our world, would be just like it was before.
Rewind the good times like old friends do,
We just got caught in the storm.
