Nightfall

Our Mirage

So give in, I know the dawn is the bitter end
So I put my mask on and I start to pretend
To be someone I ain't never gonna be again

Every minute from the morning till the sun goes down
I know that inside of me, it's a fucking ghost town
And anyone with half a heart wouldn't let me drown

I know I can't breathe
While the sunlight hurts my eyes (Sunlight hurts my eyes)
I know I can't live
Until the moon will arise

I am living in the night
When I watch the stars fall down
When they crash into the ground

With every breath, with every breath I take
I am feeling alive and know that I'm awake
So please, make this an everlasting night

I'm wondering, could I ever get my feelings back?
This empty shell is like a noose around my neck
I am nothing but a huge creaking wreck

I'm falling deeper and deeper into this hole I dug
And took a double dose of this deadly drug
But during the night I know, I know I won't get stuck

I know I can't breathe
While the sunlight hurts my eyes (Sunlight hurts my eyes)
I know I can't live
Until the moon will arise

I am living in the night
When I watch the stars fall down
When they crash into the ground

With every breath, with every breath I take
I am feeling alive and know that I'm awake
So please, make this an everlasting night

I know I can't breathe
While the sunlight hurts my eyes (While the sunlight hurts my eyes)
I know I can't live
Until the moon will arise (The moon will arise)

Oh hello, shooting stars up in the sky
You reveal the beauty of this
You reveal the beauty of this world

Oh hello, shooting stars up in the sky
You give me the strength I need
The strength I need to survive

Oh hello, shooting stars up in the sky
You reveal the beauty of this

You reveal the beauty of this world

Oh hello, shooting stars up in the sky
You give me the strength I need
The strength I need to survive
'Cause I'm not ready to die

I am living in the night
When I watch the stars fall down
When they crash into the ground

With every breath, with every breath I take
I am feeling alive and know that I'm awake
So please, make this an everlasting night
Make this an everlasting night
