

Suffocating

Our Mirage

Tell me
Am I just empty?
Why am I left with broken bones
Since you decided to bury your heart in stone

How was I supposed to know
That you lied to me, you'd never let go
How was I supposed to know
That you'd let me down
Let me down

Now I am fighting for my life
I'm Suffocating, barely alive
Cause you took every promise and threw it away
Yeah it hurts the most when I'm alone
When I'm alone

Colors slowly fading gray
Since you turned your back on me
And you left without a word
My vision's getting blurred
And I'm the one who always gets hurt
How was I supposed to know
That you'd let me down

Now I am fighting for my life
I'm Suffocating, barely alive
Cause you took every promise and threw it away

Yeah it hurts the most when I'm alone
When I'm alone
It hurts the most when I'm alone
(So be careful who you love)

I remember what my father told
Save your trust cause it is made of gold
Even giving everything, for them it's never enough
Be careful who you love
(So be careful who you love)

Now I am fighting for my life
I'm Suffocating, barely alive
Cause you took every promise and threw it away
So be careful who you love!
