

Prove It

Out Of The Grey

It all rushes past so fast
My grip is tight, my lips white
This heart is steady but it's always ready to brake
Don't know how much I could take

So I stay on my side hugging the shoulder
Stare down the double line
Wondering what would dare, dare to cross over

I said I trust You and I do believe I do
Oh Lord, but must You ask me to prove it to You
I said I love You and I know its true, I really do
Oh Lord, but please dont ask me to prove it to You

Leading your love up a dead end slope
Losing a life without losing hope
Could I break the boundary between word and deed
Take that narrow road but let someone else take the wheel

I said I trust You and I do believe, I do
Oh Lord, but must You ask me to prove it to You
I said I love You and I know its true, I really do
Oh Lord, but please dont ask me to prove it to You

Heart in my throat I grab at the answers
As I choke back the possibilities I know
I know I've got to let go

I trust You, I really do
Oh Lord, but must You ask me to prove it, prove it
I said I love You and I know its true, I know its true
Oh Lord, I just dont want to have to prove it, prove it
