

What's It Gonna Be

Out Of The Grey

God, he loved the world so much
He died to set us free
And yet you hesitate
Afraid to go where you don't see

But you've been given visions of
Another kind of world
His kingdom has come
To move the woman from the girl

What's it gonna be now, baby
Are you gonna fly?
What's it gonna take now, honey
Just to make you try?
Don't you know your freedom comes
When you leave your fears behind
What's it gonna be?

So lift your eyes above
Get a better view
If you're in but just not of
Then what have you to lose

Faith has changed the boundaries
His love has set you free
Got to open the box
A gift is to receive

What's it gonna be now, baby
Are you gonna fly?
What's it gonna take now, honey
Just to make you try?
Don't you know your freedom comes
When you leave your fears behind

The window is open
On a bright and sunny day
And in the trees you see
The forest for a change

Are you gonna fly?
What's it gonna take just to make you come
Your freedom comes
When you leave your fears behind
Your freedom comes
When you leave your fears behind
What's it gonna be?