

How

Over October

How do you turn down a heart that's been longing for love
How do you end something good without a push or a shove
How do you stop the rain from falling down
How do you stop world spinning round

How could you break someone's heart without breaking them too
How could you give up on someone when they won't give up on you
How do you stop time
When will the stars align

How do you stop the tears from falling down
How do you stop that sound

How do you stop a person from feeling the way they do
How do you make someone have the same feelings for someone new
How do you stop this girl
When she deserves the world
