

Never Stop

Over October

I've been tryna make, I've been tryna make time
Gotta make up for moments that you've crossed my mind
I've been waiting for, I've been waiting for you Finally found me a person who makes me feel the same way too

Everything feels strange but I keep coming back for more
Everything has changed, now I could rest my head on your shoulders
And throw out all our fears and jeers and dream of better days
till we're older
And never stop

I've got much to do, much to do with you
I've got chances, but screw them stupid chances, there's you

Everything feels strange but I keep coming back for more
Everything has changed, now I could rest my head on your shoulders
And throw out all our fears and jeers and dream of better days
till we're older
And never stop

Now I could rest my head on your shoulders
And throw out all our fears and jeers and dream of better days
till we're older
And I could rest my head on your shoulders
And throw out all our fears and jeers and dream of better days
till we're older
And never stop
