Wait

Over October

Waiting on someone who'll never be yours
It sounds stupid bizarre but you stay a little more
Yes, you wait
Oh, you wait

Imagination fantasy it's all in my head
All the things we would've said this addiction won't end
While I wait
Oh, while I wait

And oh, this feeling just won't end

Take your time
Take your time

Waiting on someone who'll never be yours
It's like running in circles up unending floors
Yet you wait
Oh, you wait

Sitting here silently, nothing in store
What is this even for, shaking up to the core
But I'll wait
Oh, I'll wait

And oh, I'm trapped in here again

Take your time
Take your time

There's no turning back for me, I'll be
I'll wait till the mountains cross the seas
Till all the secrets are set free
Meeting you there on bended knee
