

Ubiquitous Hands

Over the Rhine

It's a first impression
Silence is deceiving
But just around the corner
I can hear
I can hear you breathe
It's a calm confession
A curious obsession
No matter when I listen
I can hear
I can hear you breathe
I can hear you breathing
If you stay and never go away
I'll repeat the same mistakes I've made
I'll believe most anything you say and
Watch my heart of stone melt into clay
First I'm disbelieving
Then I'm almost drowning
Swimming in the ocean with the sound
I can hear you breathe
Walking in the heavens
Falling on the ground
Rolling on the earth
You're all around
I can hear you breathe
I can hear you breathing
If you stay and never go away
I'll repeat the same mistakes I've made
I'll believe most anything you say and
Watch my heart of stone melt into clay
In your hands
In your hands
(Fall into your ubiquitous hands)
It's an indication
I'm your destination
I hope it's not just my imagination
