Overkill

I think of you when I'm feeling down
When my whole damn thing crashes to the ground

With a dancing blaze seen in your eyes
And a razor sharp tongue cuts through the lies

Everybody wants some
But only few believe
I won't be the first to overdose
On what I want, not what I need

Turn me up and play me loud
I won't back down and will be proud to say
Gimme what I want now
Distortion

I was born on the crest of a sonic wave
And you always made the best of my chronic rage
Distortion
Turbo, blast, jet fuel and sucking your power
Like the atomic clock strike on the hour
Distortion

Everybody wants some
But only few believe
I won't be the first to overdose
On what I want, not what I need

Turn me up and play me loud
I won't back down and will be proud to say
Gimme what I want now

Play what you feel, devil in the deal
A heart of stone and a soul of steel
Push it to the left, pull to the right
Add a little dark, add a little bright
He has put his finger on the blessed stack
And beckons you to linger, before you attack

Play what you feel, devil in the deal
A heart of stone and a soul of steel
Play what you feel, devil in the deal
A heart of stone and a soul of steel
