

Know Her Name

Overkill

Hold me in your loving arms, the powder blast did take away my eyes
Hold me in the bosom of the love I bleed, for she is no surprise
I'll wrap my arms around her, squeeze so tight, I'll pop the eyes out of her head
I'll wrap my arms around her, squeeze so tight and I won't let go til l she's dead
Till she's dead

Give it just a little more, liberty is out the door

If not too much to mention between sanity and blame
With all the best intentions, do you know her name?
Do you know her name? She absorbs the pain
In the coldest cold of all your winters, history remains
Do you know her name?

Shelter me from danger, from the coldest hearts that wish that we wou ld die
Protect me from the wolves, keep them at bay, until the next height o f our rise
I'll wrap my arms around her, squeeze so tight, till every drop of bl ood has bled
I'll wrap my arms around her, hold her tight until our enemies are de ad
Till they're dead

One, two, three, four, liberty is out the door

If not too much to mention between sanity and blame
With all the best intentions, do you know her name?
Do you know her name? She absorbs the pain
In the coldest cold of all your winters, history remains
Do you know her name?

So sow the seeds of hate
The clock strikes half past three
The longer that we'll wait
The clock strikes half past late
So deep inside the fray
No matter what they say
To fight another day
To find another way
Find another way

If not too much to mention between sanity and blame
With all the best intentions, do you know her name?
Do you know her name?
Do you know her name?
Do you know her name? She absorbs the pain
Do you know her name?
In the coldest cold of all your winters, history remains
Do you know her name?
