

Promises

Overkill

Wishing never got us what we needed
So we waited for our salvation to arrive
Then it took everything that we loved
And it left us alive

I hear you call
And I promise to you
One day, some day
The pain will go

Solitary movement meant for two
Can you hear the loneliness in silent cries
If you take everything that I love
Leave me to die

I hear you call
And I promise to you
One day, some day
The pain will go

If you take everything that I love
And you leave me here,
Leave me alive
If you take everything that I love
And I'm standing here
Waiting to die
To die

I hear you call
And I promise to you
One day, some day
The pain will go
