

You should have your way
Arms long to sway
Lose and waste away
Wide enough to say
You sit back and wait
And metal with the bait
Soon you'll hit the hay
It's late enough to say

All this time, what did you want me to be?
I kept waiting for this to sound right
All my life, I never wanted to be
I kept waiting for this to sound right

Listen to your head
Right or wrong instead
And metal with the test

Now this time, how you've seen all I can be
My history's fading and I missed you say why
Now my life is missing all I can be
I stopped to wait and I missed you feel right
