Honey and the Bee

Don't remind me That some days I'm a windshield And other days I'm just a lucky bug As cold iron rails leave Old mossy trails through the countryside

The crow and the bean field Are my best friends but Boy, I need a hug (boy, I need a hug) Cause my heart stops without you There's something about you That makes me feel alive

If the green left the grass on the other side (I would make like a tree and leave) But if I reached for your hand Would your eyes get wide? (Who knew the other side could be so green?)

Don't remind me I'm a chickadee in love with the sky But that's clearly not a lot to crow about Cause when the stars silhouette me I'm scared they'll forget me And flicker out

I taste honey but I haven't seen the hive Yeah I didn't look, I didn't even try But still my heart stops without you There's something about you That makes me feel alive

If the green left the grass on the other side (I would make like a tree and leave) But if I reached for your hand Would your eyes get wide? (Who knew the other side could be so green?)

We are honey and the bee Backyard of butterflies surrounded me I fell in love with you Like bees to honey So let's up And leave the weeping to the willow tree And pour our tears in the sea

I swear there's a lot of vegetables out there That crop up for air Yeah I never thought We were two peas in a pod Until you suddenly bloomed Then I knew That I'd always love you (Oh, I'll always love you too)

If the green left the grass on the other side (I would make like a tree and leave)

Owl City

But if I reached for your hand Would your eyes get wide? (Who knew the other side could be so green?) If the green left the grass on the other side (I would make like a tree and leave) But if I reached for your hand Would your eyes get wide? (Who knew the other side could be so green?)

And if I reached for your hand For the rest of my life (Who knew the other side could be so green?)
