Burning Leather

Oz

High above the city something on the rise
A little piece of heaven, such a great disguise
Descending like a whisper, an echo from the past
A million years of hiding, breaking free at last

He screams aloud: Now I'm free, now the time is up for me
Bursting out from his cell, he broke the spell

When your eyes meet his eyes worlds collide
A live bomb set to kill, a guided missile
His laser gaze guns you down, try to hide
At your feet he will coil like a reptile

His touch like burn' leather, his eyes like hungry flames
Born to live forever, never to be tamed (2x)

Gleaming sheets of armour, he roams the restless streets
Galactic force has risen our world is his to eat
He's the new religion, he's the chosen one
Now in prime position, gigantic blazing guns

He screams aloud: now I'm free, now the time is up for me
Bursting out from his cell, he broke the spell

When your eyes meet his eyes worlds collide
A live bomb set to kill, a guided missile
His laser gaze guns you down, try to hide
At your feet he will coil like a reptile

His touch like burn' leather, his eyes like hungry flames
Born to live forever, never to be tamed (2x)

Burnin' leather, hungry flames
Live forever, won't be tamed (2x)
