

Hurray Goodbye

Ozark Henry

there's this something i want you to read it's something familiar, i expect you to notice a blanco confessing what i've planned for me a whiteness to swallow all deeds, to refresh (hurray goodbye)
a step onwards purity that i'm bound to take it should happen when i'm home like picking up a phone when it's least expected
when saying hello
hello it's me
i'm loyal but solved

can i be your walkman?

there's this something i want you to know it's something pathetic, i expect you to notice there's not really something i'm waiting or need still if the waiter comes i'll order rain (hurray goodbye)
the wonder of nature will surely take place it will happen when i'm home
like picking up a phone
when saying hello
