

The Last Hunt

Paddy and the Rats

It's quarter past forever
I'm a bit late but you're waiting
I promised you together
We'd conquer the skies
And now your wings are open
Ready for your sailing
Leaving me here all alone
'Cause you have stopped believing

You're excited 'bout the last hunt
Chasing new adventures
After all what I want
Just to say goodbye
Now my wings are broken
And your eyes are bleeding
But yet you leave me all alone
I also stop believing

And the clock struck slowly never
I'm still here, you're not waiting
As I say last time: together
It vanishes in the night
And now my wings are open
But there's no wind for sailing
Stuck to the earth alone
Again I start believing
