Stumble

Paddy Casey

Pilgrimage of desire
You were standing in the fire
Ya didn't know

You were runnin' on the track with a target on your back
Man ya didn't know
There was a devil in your mind
Keeping you blind with a light show

He kept ya occupied
So ya couldn't get wide
So ya couldn't grow

Man you were takin' in lies
Your lettin' out lies
You're never more the wise
You stumble

Ya saw prophets in pain,
Ya thought they were insane
Ya didn't show

Ya were heading their cries in a poor disguise
Ya didn't know

Ya saw angels in the crowd,
Weren't standin' proud
So it didn't show

Their wing's had been sliced,
They took the sacrifice
So someone else could go

You been takin' in lies
You letting out lies
You never more the wise
You stumble

Man you were takin' in lies
You letting out lies
You never more the wise
You stumble

Pilgrimage of desire
You were standing in the fire
Ya didn't know

You were runnin' on the track with a target on your back
Man ya didn't know
There was a devil on your mind
Keeping you blind with a light show

He kept ya occupied
So ya couldn't get wide
So ya couldn't grow

You were taking in lies,

You letting out lies
You stumble

Yeah, you were takin in lies,
You letting out lies
You stumble
