I will sing a song to you And you will shake the ground for me And the birds and bees and old fruit trees Will spit out songs like gushing streams And Jesus will come through the ground so dirty With worms in his hair and a hand so sturdy To call us his magic we call him worthy Jesus came up through the ground do dirty I will sing a song for to you And you will stomp your feet for me And the bears and bees and banana trees Will play kazoos and tambourines And Jesus will dance while we drink his wine With soldiers and thieves and a sword in his side And we will be joy and we will be right Jesus will dance while we drink his wine Jesus will come through the ground so dirty With worms in his hair and a hand so sturdy To call us his magic we call him worthy Jesus came up through the ground so dirty Jesus came up through the ground so dirty Jesus came up through the ground so dirty Jesus came up through the ground so dirty
