

Salt

Palace

Take what you want inside of me
You're water on the flames my misery
There's words to try and make it all so real
But silence understands what we can feel

And I'm beside you
As you're beside me
I'm beside you
As you're beside me

When the bleakness takes your hand and runs away with you
And hides the pieces of your mind that make it durable
I'll be there for you in your chest
I'll be there for you in your chest
Salt for the war wounds
It's all for the war wounds

I'm beside you
As you're beside me
And I'm beside you
As you're beside me

I'm beside you
As you're beside me
I'm beside you
As you're beside me
