

Thinking About You

Pale Waves

I learnt your body like it was my own
Told you my stories nobody else knows
Maybe we didn't try hard enough

If you got a new girl, is she your world?
I'm not so sure what I want more
Maybe we didn't try hard enough

I'm still thinking about you
I'm still thinking about you
Tell me, tell me, do you remember?
Did the feelings linger?
I'm still thinking about you
I'm still thinking about you
Tell me, tell me, do you remember?

I call your sister from time to time
She let's me know you're doing just fine
And I wish we tried a little more

And I know I've asked you before
Do you think about me at all?

'Cause I'm still thinking about you
I'm still thinking about you
Tell me, tell me, do you remember?
Did the feelings linger?
I'm still thinking about you
I'm still thinking about you
Tell me, tell me, do you remember?

And I know I've asked you before
Do you think about me at all?
And I know I shouldn't call
Do you think about me at all?
