You're So Vain

Pale Waves

I'm a princess so gimme my crown
Yeah I'm gonna bring I'm gonna bring you down
I've tried my best to bite my tongue
But I've listened to your shit for far too long

Your ignorance makes me wanna vomit
You'll get what you deserve baby I promise
Everybody knows and they all can tell
That if you could you'd go and marry yourself

You're so vain yeah
I'm in pain
When you open up your narcissistic mouth
All you do is let me down
'Cause you're so vain yeah

You think you're always right and you think that you're perfect
But putting up with you was never ever worth it
I think you're mistaken 'cause you can't see
You're blinded by your own vanity

You take what you need and you don't give back
'Cause I guess your mother never really taught you that
The world it doesn't spin with you on top
You think it's all about you when it's really not

You're so vain yeah
I'm in pain
When you open up your narcissistic mouth
All you do is let me down
