

Birdy

Pamungkas

Birdy in my heart
That wants flock it back
Maybe it's too noble, as your body double
We can't seem to be seen as a being or sad tambourine
Maybe it's for the best for everyone, light's off, rest now
Yeah
(Yeah, yeah, ooh)

Are we on restart?
Yes, birdy in my heart
That once died last summer, on the trip as a loner
As we light cigarretes blow all the smokes on fame and its soul
As a pop star we fall, very nearly ended it all

I've got the whole world on my shoulders
Things are different now I'm older
But I see them there; I know they wants to fuck me up
I've got the whole waves on my water
Got no time to run in cylinder
Birdy in my heart
Why on earth are you seem so sad?
Take a little song
And dance along
And make it better

Birdy in my heart
I was saying to him
Everyone thinks they're nice and seem act like badass
Try to take control and shut a man with weaker hand
And we'll let them be that, but between us;, patient for now

Birdy love me right
Like you are my one only
Like no one is around, yeah, shush
Do it roughly smart
The quietly and secretly
'Till we sleep together
Ooh-ooh-ooh, yeah-yeah
Before the world judge me again

I've got the whole world on my shoulders
Things are different now I'm older (Now I am older)
But I see them there; I know they wants to fuck me up
I've got the whole waves on my water
(All the waves on a race right on my very water)
Got no time to run in cylinder
Birdy in my heart
Why on earth are you seem so mad?
Take a little song
And dance along
And make it better
Make it better

I've got the Birdy in me

He's not dead
You know the Birdy in me
That makes you sad
So I tell the Birdy in me
Stay down
Lay low
Not now
