

Break It

Pamungkas

I miss the warmth of having someone's glow
Going slowly to my direction
Solitude is a bliss it is but I am
Missing the warmth of having someone's glow

Go on and take my heart and break it
Go on and own it then corrupt it
Because I miss being in love before I watch it all slowly fall apart
And crushed to the start
So go on and take my heart and ache it
Go on and fix my heart then break it
(Hey)

I need the thrill to gamble all the odds
Meaningless game, the art of overthink
Love is a bitch, it is I know but I am
Needing the thrill from feelin' something original
And puzzly delusional
Do you know what I mean?

Go on and take my heart and break it
Go on and own it then corrupt it
Because I miss being in love before I watch it all slowly fall apart
And crushed to the start
So go on and take my heart and break it
Let it all crumble then decrypt it
Because I miss the full circle of love
The beauty and all it's aftermath
Is it too much to ask?
Go on and take my heart and ache it
Go on and fix my heart

Cause in the end the days are numbered
And I hope this loneliness won't stay
I'm not havin' it cause it's been too long
It's been such a long way down
Now I am low on love and it's aftermath
I'm low on hugs and kisses
On jealousy and heartache

(Break it, break it)
(Break it, break it)
(Break it, break it)
(Break it, break it)
(Break it, break it)
(Break it, break it)
(Break it, break it)
(Break it)

(Hey)