

Control & Fire

Pantheist

I can't deny how much you've changed me history is but a shadow revealed by your shine minds transformed by your burning flame beacon of hope, illuminating our path:
and so, our great journey began...

We fought the dark, our journey bore your mark should we accept your gift or will your flame engulf us all?

Now we have the tools to build our own future everything is changing, and yet it seems the same civilization is a spiral of eternal revolution