

Your smile can disguise
Papoose, Papoose

Trump claim black and latino unemployment is at the lowest ever
He can't phone the smart people 'cause we be knowin' better
Your claim to fame is false, non-void
How can that be true when the youth is unemployed?
They don't have high school diplomas, you annoyin' fool
Not only are they unemployed, they're unemployable
Kanye West says slavery was a choice
But he should be muzzled without a voice
The press doesn't have a choice whether they eat shit or steak
The oppressor makes all the decisions on your plate
Eat shit because they're shitted on entirely
And they don't have any stake in society

They came together from the corners of the world
The corners of the city, corners of the street
There's a difference between raising kids and saving kids

Kadafi had a plan to go under the gold market
So the US murdered him, they heartless
Slavery never ended in Libya
They only publicizing it now 'cause they're trickin' you
It only ended in America 'cause we disputed it
Fought back civil war, civil rights movement
Putin helped Trump in the election
So he could lift his sanctions on his deal from Exxon
Five hundred billion, they don't think we know
The Secretary of State was a Exxon CEO
I watched people I respect squirm for respects
From people who don't even acknowledge him in the flesh

All my life, America has always taught me
To raise the children and save America
Now we talkin' about raisin' America

I don't care about the rhymes that you wrote with your pen
'Cause my lyrics written in stone, yeah, I molded 'em in
When God made me he broke the mold, chosen to win
Papoose takin' over again
This generation is lazy, I'm tired of holdin' it in
Instead of gettin' liposuction, why don't they just go to the gym?
Facts, money is a tool, something for you to use
A man that disagrees with that is just a fool
You think cash gives you authority, that's cruel
Morals, values, and principles, that's the rules
Experience is the best teacher that you could choose
To have a lotta class is cool, life is a school

Can I get a witness here?
