

Standby Lights

Paprika Korps

We live in every second furniture in your flat
We praise you through the blinking standby lights
Oh! Lord, who is sitting on the softest armchair, hear our prayers!
Pay bills on time

Oh! Great Customizer who taught us the alarm clock time all frequencies you send us we'll turn to sound
Wag you finger, and well act out that which you desire
Just hear your bowed servants
Pay bills on time

We live in every second furniture in your flat
We praise you through the blinking standby lights
Oh! Lord, who is sitting on the softest armchair, hear our prayers!
Pay bills on time

Just keep the Sun and Air flowing through the plug
Dont let yout lambs be smashed by the silent dark
Let the settings you've set eternally last Keep the Holy Sockets fertile
Pay bills on time

We live in every second furniture in your flat
We praise you through the blinking standby lights
Oh! Lord, who is sitting on the softest armchair?
hear our prayers
