

California (Jenna's Song)

Parabelle

I need a reason from you
You could trade for me if you want to
For an angel, cuz all that's left in my veins
Is just empty venom
Are you saying there's no leeway?
Cuz your faults, they leave me terrified

I'm emotive, I'm a half a world away
I wish you were here, maybe more than ever
Cuz yesterday is gone
And this side of the ocean is just a half a world away
I want you to stay, just for me
Cuz yesterday is gone

I need her late in life
It needs to last past some day
I need that, maybe more than ever
We never could outrun this
It's colder than us both
Would you save her, if I asked you?

Cuz I'm emotive, I'm a half a world away
I wish you were here, maybe more than ever
Cuz yesterday is gone
And this side of the ocean is just a half a world away
I want you to stay, just for me
Cuz yesterday is gone

Overwhelmed, I'm overwhelmed by you
Do you feel that too?
I'm overwhelmed, I'm overwhelmed for you
Do you feel that too?

And when the morning comes
It won't turn around, it won't turn around
And when the morning comes
It won't turn around, it won't turn around even if I beg you

And I'm emotive, I'm a half a world away
I wish you were here, maybe more than ever
Cuz yesterday is gone
And this side of the ocean is just a half a world away
I want you to stay, just for me
Cuz yesterday is gone
