

Gone

Parabelle

I saw exactly who you were and I saw a disaster
A future come undone, if we even had one
I saw you there, you were bleeding and it was so misleading
Before I say goodbye, I could tell you wouldn't wonder why

Why you wanna make it up just to make it gone?
Why you wanna be so connected to so many faults?
She used to love the way I turned a phrase, she turned the page
And why you wanna get it all under setting sun?
Why you wanna be so addicted to what you lost and what it cost?
You turned around and I was down

And I wouldn't deceive you and you can believe that
'Cause the world keeps spinning like it did before you were born
Do you ever shake, ever hate, ever fall?
I could catch you, that's all... and it's all

Why you wanna make it up just to make it gone?
Why you wanna be so connected to so many faults?
She used to love the way I turned a phrase, she turned the page
And why you wanna get it all under setting sun?
Why you wanna be so addicted to what you lost and what it cost?
You turned around and I was down

And where did we go wrong?
I felt the darkness for so long
And where did we go wrong?
I guess the darkness wasn't mine
The darkness wasn't mine, it was yours
But could you fight it, fight it for me?
Could you fight it?

Why you wanna make it up just to make it gone?
Why you wanna be so connected to so many faults?
She used to love the way I turned a phrase, she turned the page
And why you wanna get it all under setting sun?
Why you wanna be so addicted to what you lost and what it cost?
You turned around and I was down
