

He Started Off Well

Parabelle

Hey, subtle bastard
You're the big shot now
With the big head
And there you sit
On your throne
When you fall down
Is when I know...
You're forgotten

First things first
Don't lie to me
You'll have a perfect seat
To watch it all unfold

Pain feel the punishment
Well he stared off well started off well
Cover your eyes
I'll show you pain you'll feel the benefit
Well he started off started off well
Cover your mouth

You lucky bastard
What a righteous pose
You're the best
And here you stand
With my heart
You fall through the cracks
Just like the rest a has been
But first things first when you lie to me
You'll be on your knees before it all unfolds

Pain feel the punishment
Well he stared off well started off well
Cover your eyes
I'll show you pain you'll feel the benefit
Well he started off started off well
Cover your mouth

The wind began to speak you have a dirty mouth
I don't know where you are just tell me where to go
I can't believe the words you stabbed me in the back
This is how I know I never started that Hold back whatcha going to call this
This is where it all comes down to..

Pain feel the punishment
Well he stared off well started off well
Cover your eyes
I'll show you pain you'll feel the benefit
Well he started off started off well
Cover your mouth
