Parabelle

I could be your modern hero,
You can be relief from lines so blurred in white
Are you mad at the monster or me
I can feel your arms around me
Holding tighter than I know your heart can take Move over and let it break

I can hear you more when you're not around
But it's a taller tale than you could tell

Burned lights burn so bright
This is where we jump off
These bright lights burn my eyes
You better make the most of your time
It lies, it fights as it goes by
And this is where we jump off
These bursts send all these white little lies
Right between your...

Can you see the fire flicker
Can you read between the lines so blurred in white
This goes by much quicker
If I make the siren sound right
It will blast the smile off those pearly whites
It brings out the sinner so you can tell

Burned lights burn so bright
This is where we jump off
These bright lights burn my eyes
You better make the most of your time
It lies, it fights as it goes by
And this is where we jump off
These bursts send all these white little lies
Right between your eyes

And how do I make you bad
Just tell me what courses
Through your little makeshift parts
And how, how do I make amends
Just tell me what forces
Are pulling you backwards
It's better we adjust them

These burned lights burn so bright
This is where we jump off
These bright lights burn my eyes
You better make the most of your time
