

Forever And Always

Parachute

She's sitting at the table
the hours get later
He was supposed to be here
She's sure he would have called
She waits a little longer there's no one in the driveway
No one's said they seen him
Why, is something wrong?
She looks back to the window
Suddenly the phone rings
A voice says somethings happened
That she should come right now
Her mind goes to December
She thinks of when he asked her
He bent down on his knees first
And he said

I, I want You forever
Forever and always
Thought the good and the bad and the ugly
We'll grow old together
Forever and always

She pulls up to the entrance
She walks right to the front desk
They lead her down a million halls a maze that's never ending They talk about what happened but she can barely hear them
She tries to keep a straight face as she walks into the room
She sits by his bedside holds his hand too tight
They talk about the kids they're gonna have and the good life
The house on the hillside where they would

Stay, stay there forever
Forever and always
and always remember
Whether rich or for poor or for better
We'll still love each other
Forever and always

Then she gets an idea and calls in the nurses
Brings up the chaplain and he says a couple versus
She borrows some rings from the couple next door
Everybody's laughing as the tears fall on the floor
She looks into his eyes
And she says

I, I want You forever
Forever and always

Whether happy or sad or whatever

Forever and always
Forever and always..

She finishes the vows but the beeps are getting so low
He voice is almost too low
As he says

I, I love You forever
Forever and always
Please just remember even if I'm not there I'll always love You
Forever and always
