Waking Up

Parachute

(Wake up...)
They were tearing down a desert highway, like a bullet through the still of the heat
He was pointing at the constellations, she was sleeping in the passenger seat

You said we're finally gonna get out,
I think we're finally gonna get out, yeah
Oh I can feel it

I'm finally waking up
I'm finally waking up, I know
I'm finally waking up
(I'm waking, I'm waking)
I'm finally waking up, I know
(I'm waking, I'm waking)

We were caught up in an endless circle, always looking for a place we could dream
We were swimming in the deepest ocean, wondering why we couldn't find any beach

I think we're finally gonna get out, yeah
I think we're finally gonna get out, yeah
Oh I can feel it

I'm finally waking up
I'm finally waking up, I know
I'm finally waking up
(I'm waking, I'm waking)
I'm finally waking up, I know
(I'm waking, I'm waking)

In the black night, melting away, as the red sun rolls in its place
She sat up stretched and reached for the edge of the sky
Then opened her eyes and woke up

(I'm finally waking up, I know)
I'm finally waking up, waking up!!
(Wake up)

I'm finally waking up
I'm finally waking up, I know
I'm finally waking up
(I'm waking, I'm waking)
I'm finally waking up, I know
(I'm waking)
