

What Breaks My Heart

Parachute

It's not the way you didn't see me
I never come here anymore
You have a life, you have to live it
And I can't blame you at all

It's not the way I saw you kiss him
Before you got out of the car
But I could tell you really love him...
That's what breaks my heart

I wonder, maybe if I walk these streets again
Maybe I could find it
Looking for a train I didn't miss
Maybe I could ride it out
'Til the sun, in the morning
I'll be fine, in the morning
Sleep it off, 'til the morning comes

It's strange to be here in the same room
To breathe the same air that you are
But now I'm stuck here on an island
Where I can't even see the stars
But I still see, just how perfect we can be, yeah
And that's what breaks my heart

I wonder, maybe if I walk these streets again
Maybe I could find it
Looking for a train I didn't miss
Maybe I could ride it out
'Til the sun, in the morning
I'll be fine, in the morning
Sleep it off, 'til the morning comes

Oh, I know you couldn't believe

You were leaving when you noticed
And you were kind, to say hello...
But there's a truth I came to terms with,
As you walked out of the door

See, there's a chance in never knowing
There's a hope in holding on
To finally know you'll never love me
If I'm honest...
That's what breaks my heart

That's what breaks my heart

That's what breaks my heart.
