

Young

Parachute

I was young, still at home
And my mum would call me
Down the street through the trees
And I'd run back towards that sound
Where I knew that love was waiting

Caught a flight, chased a dream
Never second guessed it
On the run, didn't stop
Saw the edge and had to jump
I still feel like I'm the same kid
So why's the mirror say I'm not

Ooh, baby
Seems we're only getting older lately, ooh
And I think I'm scared that maybe
After all this growing up
I'm only good at being young

Good at being young
I'm only good at being young

Packed a car, moved away
Met the girl of my dreams, I
Never been happier
But I still don't have a clue
Time won't tell you when it's leaving
You just look up and it's gone

Ooh, baby
Seems we're only getting older lately, ooh
And I think I'm scared that maybe
After all this growing up
I'm only good at being young

Good at being young
I'm only good at being young
Good at being young
I'm only good at being young

But I'll hold on to that feeling
'Cause you never know
No, you never know
Maybe none of us were ever meant
To let it go
Never let it go

Ooh, baby
Seems we're only getting older lately, ooh
And I think I'm scared that maybe
After all this growing up
I'm only good, yeah

Ooh, baby
Why'd it feel like I was never changing? Ooh
And I'm just terrified that maybe
After all this growing up, oh oh

I'm only good at being young

I'm only good at being young

I'm only good at being young

I'm only good at being young

I'm only good at being young
